

Direct Subsidized/Unsubsidized Student Loans Frequently Asked Questions

What is the difference between “Subsidized” and “Unsubsidized?”

Subsidized loan eligibility is always based on demonstrated financial need (file the FAFSA) and the interest is paid (or subsidized) by the federal government until you are no longer enrolled at least half-time. Basically, it’s a zero-percent loan while you’re in school and for six (6) months after you leave school.

Eligibility in the unsubsidized loan program is not contingent upon financial need; however, you must file the FAFSA to be considered for an Unsubsidized Loan. As the borrower, you (the student) are responsible for the interest on an unsubsidized loan while in school; however, it may be capitalized (added to the loan principal) while you are enrolled. You will receive a quarterly statement from the Direct Loan Servicer giving you the option to pay the interest or have it capitalized.

How much can I borrow?

Federal regulations place annual and aggregate (lifetime) limits on the amount a student can borrow. These limits include Federal Stafford Loans borrowed at other schools you have attended, as well as Direct Loans.

Annual Subsidized/Unsubsidized Loan Limits

	Total Hours Completed	Dependent Student	Independent Student
Freshman	0-27	$2,625	$6,625
Sophomore	28-59	$3,500	$7,500
Junior/Senior	60+	$5,500	$10,500
Graduate			$18,500

The total amount borrowed in all programs combined (including Parent Loans) cannot exceed your costs as determined by OSU, minus any other aid you will receive (i.e., Pell Grant, Oklahoma Tuition Aid Grant, tribal funds, Vocational Rehabilitation, cash or tuition scholarships, etc.). If you receive any other awards after your loan eligibility is determined, your loan(s) may be adjusted accordingly.

What is the interest rate on a Subsidized/Unsubsidized Loan?

The Federal government sets the interest rate, which is fixed at 6.8% for all new loans disbursed (credited to your OSU Bursar’s account) for 2006-2007. If you have previous loans, they will continue to accrue interest at the variable rate until you consolidate your loans when you graduate. Remember that the interest on a “subsidized” loan is paid for you by the government while you are in school at least half-time.

Do I go to a bank to get the loan?

OSU works through the “Federal Direct Loan Program.” You work only with OSU and a U.S. Department of Education loan servicer instead of commercial lenders and guarantee agencies. All Direct Student Loans can be consolidated into one student loan when you graduate.

How do I tell you I want these loans?

To accept the loan(s), logon to OSU SIS-Web for Students at <http://prodosu.okstate.edu> and select the “Accept/Decline Awards” option from the Financial Aid drop-down menu. If you prefer, you can complete and return the paper award letter.

I’ve never borrowed at OSU before; what else do I need to do?

If you are a first-time borrower, or if you have not borrowed in the past 12 months, you will complete a Master Promissory Note (MPN), which is retained and updated by the loan servicer throughout your education at OSU. You will electronically ‘sign’ your MPN on the web, using the PIN you received from the U.S. Dept. of Education when you completed the FAFSA. If you have questions about completing the MPN, please contact Direct Loan Applicant Services at 1-800-557-7394.

Any new Subsidized/Unsubsidized Direct Student Loan borrower at OSU (even if you borrowed at another school) must complete a one-time loan counseling session, which includes borrower rights and responsibilities, prior to receiving the first loan disbursement. We encourage you to complete entrance counseling, on the web at www.dlsonline.com. The loan servicer will automatically notify OSU within a few days after you complete this requirement.

I’m a continuing OSU student and I borrowed through these programs; what else do I need to do?

Once you have accepted your loan(s), via SIS-Web for Students or the paper award letter, you don’t have anything else to complete! The Master Promissory Note (MPN) you completed in a prior year/semester, will be updated later this summer when OSU sends your loan eligibility to the Direct Loan Servicer.

More Questions and Answers About Federal Direct Subsidized/Unsubsidized Loans at Oklahoma State University

Will OSU ever change the amount of loan I'm offered?

Your loan eligibility is based in part on your cost of education, Expected Family Contribution (EFC) and other sources of financial assistance you will receive. Any change to these factors after your original award has been made may cause an adjustment to your loan eligibility. If your loan eligibility is decreased, we will notify you of the adjustment. If this change occurs after you have submitted your promissory note(s), OSU will also notify the Direct Loan Servicer of the change.

Specific reasons your loan might be adjusted include: additional financial resources not reflected on the Award Letter, such as OSU cash or tuition scholarships, awards from community organizations or employers, Vocational Rehabilitation, JTPA, tribal grants, or any other grants, etc., a change in expected family contribution; or a change to less-than-half-time enrollment.

Your initial loan award is also based in part on the grade level (freshman, sophomore, etc.) you report on the FAFSA. If the grade level you reported on the FAFSA does not match the Registrar's record, your eligibility will be adjusted accordingly.

How will I repay my loan?

Repayment on a Direct Subsidized or Unsubsidized Loan starts six (6) months after you graduate or cease to be enrolled at least half-time. You will make your payments to the federal Direct Loan Servicer.

When you leave school, you will select the repayment plan that fits your financial circumstances. You may switch repayment plans at any time without penalty by contacting the Direct Loan Borrower Services Department.

The Standard Repayment Plan requires fixed monthly payments (at least $50) for up to 10 years.

The Graduated Repayment Plan allows payments to start at one level and increase every two years, with full repayment within 10 years.

The Extended Repayment Plan allows loan repayment to be extended up to a total of 25 years, depending on the total amount you owe when your loans enter repayment.

The Income Contingent Repayment Plan bases monthly payments on your yearly income, family size, and loan amount. As your income rises or falls each year, so do your payments. After 25 years, any remaining balance on the loan will be forgiven, but you may have to pay taxes on the amount forgiven.

What is a "Grace Period"?

After you graduate, leave school, or drop below half-time enrollment, you have a six-month period, called the grace period, before you begin repayment on a Direct Subsidized or Unsubsidized Loan. If you return to school at least half-time before your grace period ends, repayment of your loan will again be delayed until six months after you leave school.

What is an "Origination Fee"?

The federal government charges Subsidized/Unsubsidized Loan borrowers an origination fee of 3%. For example, if you borrow $2,625, you will actually receive $2,546 ($$2,625 \times .03 = \79).

Is it ever possible to postpone the repayment of my loan?

Yes, under certain conditions, you can receive a "deferment" or "forbearance" on your loan, as long as the loan isn't in default. A deferment allows you to temporarily postpone payments on your loan. If you have a subsidized loan, you won't be charged interest during the deferment. If your loan is unsubsidized, you'll be responsible for the interest during the deferment. In that case, if you don't pay the interest as it accrues (accumulates), it will be capitalized and the amount you'll have to pay will increase.

A forbearance is a temporary delay or reduction of payments when the borrower is willing, but unable, to pay the full payment. Interest continues to accrue during forbearance.
